The Woodlands Website: Looking Better Than Ever!

By Brian Rower – Many thanks for all your hard work! - Woodlands Association

To ring in the new decade, the Woodlands Association has put a new face on our website! The website has a great new look and has been reorganized to help you find things faster. If you're looking for something specific, the site now has a handy search bar. If you haven't visited the Woodlands website in a while, I invite you to take a look.

Was there a recipe in last month's newsletter that you wanted to try out, but you accidentally recycled your newsletter? You're in luck! The monthly newsletters are easily accessible from our website. We have newsletters dating back to 1972, as well as each month's current newsletter, posted as soon as it becomes available.

Curious about the history of the Woodlands area? The Woodlands website is home to a rich collection of the community's history. For example, if you browse on over to the web page and click the "History" link, you'll find pictures of the original McKay Homes' brochure for The Woodlands. If you move down to the Photo Albums link, you'll find a listing of photo albums from the Fourth of July parade as early as 1978. We also have posted news articles that have been published about the Woodlands and its residents, as well as much more.

Looking to do some remodeling or repairs around your house? The website has a collection of home improvement tips, like where to find the user's manual for your dish washer that you need to fix, how to replace your kitchen cabinets, and how to replace that old carpet with wood flooring.

The website provides great access to information and links about local attractions and entertainment from all over the bay area. The website is also a great tool for individuals and families looking to move to the area. We offer links to job sites, local organizations, school and school districts, youth centers, sports leagues, and transportation recourses.

Wanting to get more involved with the Woodlands Association? Find the date and time for the next board meeting on our home page and come join us, or click the "Contact Us" link to view the list of board members and how to contact them.

So, if you haven't already, head over to WoodlandsAssn.org and check out our newly remodeled web site. And if you have any comments or recommendations please let me know at brower@woodlandsassn.org

Want to Write Something?

The Woodlands newsletter provides a community service by keeping neighborhood residents informed about issues and events of interest. We encourage Woodlands residents to submit articles for the newsletter and we regularly receive articles that are published in the newsletter.

If you would like to contribute an article, please contact us and we will be happy to work with you to help get it edited and published. Our publication guidelines are relatively simple – topics should be of interest to Woodlands residents, the newsletter can not be used as a forum to air issues between individuals, and articles may need to be edited to fit within available space (typical length is 200 words or less). To meet our publication schedule for a monthly newsletter, we have established a closing date of the 10th of each month. To the extent that space is available, articles received and ready for print by the 10th of the month will be published in the next version of the newsletter.

We appreciate your help in making the newsletter as informative, useful, and relevant to Woodlands residents. To submit an article, please write to woodlandsassn@yahoo.com.

Chinese Lunar New Year: The Year of the Tiger

By Jessica Williams – I am writing from a Malaysian perspective and I am a Tiger!

It's "Gong Xi Fa Cai" time as people of Chinese descent usher in the year of the Tiger, according to the Lunar Calendar. On the Western calendar, the start of Chinese New Year falls on Sunday, February 14, 2010. This year, (Lunar Year 4707), the date has special significance since it also happens to fall on Valentine's Day, making it a doubly auspicious day to celebrate in the West.

Preparation for New Year's Day always starts weeks earlier with traditional spring cleaning. The house is given a new coat of paint, hedges trimmed, lawn mowed, and so forth. The pantry is well stocked with staples to ensure a bountiful year and an abundance of meals. The ingredients used are symbolic of good health, longevity, good luck, harmony, etc.

The eve of the New Year holds a special significance for the Chinese as reunion dinners are held. It is a time to foster family relationships and renew family ties when all members return for the dinner no matter where they are. It is also a time for merry making with food and wine flowing generously. For many, it is a time for recollection of the past year's achievements and plans for the year ahead.

In the past, Chinese New Year celebrations were noisy affairs. Firecrackers were burned during the eve of Chinese New Year to frighten off bad spirits throughout the fifteen days of celebrations.

Three important items are a familiar sight: the 'Nien Ko' (a sticky brownish colored glutinous cake), 'Kum' (mandarin oranges, its Chinese word sounds like "gold"), and 'Fatt Ko' (a steamed flour cake, its name synonymous with 'prosperity').

Children are supposed to greet their parents with "Gong Xi Fa Cai", meaning "Congratulations And May Prosperity Be Yours", in the morning. 'Ang Pows' (red packets containing money) are given to children and to those who are still single as a gift of prosperity and well wishes for the coming year.

Taboos are always observed during the first day of the New Year. The floor must not be swept as it is believed the broom will sweep away the good luck and fortune of the New Year. Clothes are also not washed on the first day. Black should not be worn as it is a color associated with mourning. In speech, one should avoid cursing or uttering words such as death or bad luck.

In Malaysia, as in the practice on all festive occasions, 'open houses' are held by those who celebrate Chinese New Year. Friends, colleagues, and relatives are welcomed to join in the festivities. There is always an array of sweetmeats, brightly colored sweets/candy, "kuachi" melon seeds dyed red to symbolize "joy, happiness, truth, and sincerity", candied melon for growth and good health, etc., - all presented in a "Tray of Togetherness", to ensure the New Year starts off sweetly! "Gong Xi Fa Cai"

Birth Years: 1914, 1926, 1938, 1950, 1962, 1974, 1986, 1998, 2010 (per Western calendar)

Like the tiger, you are one of the most caring and thoughtful signs in the Chinese zodiac.

Traits: Short-tempered, Suspicious, Adventurous, Sensitive, Emotional, Risk-taking.

Compatible With: Horses, Dogs. Avoid: Monkeys

Famous Tigers: Sun Yat Sen, Queen Elizabeth II, Isadora Duncan, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Marilyn Monroe, Marco Polo, Beatrix Potter, Karl Marx, Emily Bronte, Ludwig van Beethoven.

Safety in the Neighborhood

By Ed Wohlers

With the winter rains upon us, we thought it would be a good idea to remind people of several tips to maintain safety in the neighborhood. Remember to:

- Slow down. It takes longer for your car to stop on wet streets.
- Watch for pedestrians and bicyclists especially when approaching cross walks
- Short absences:
  - Make your home look occupied. Leave some lights or a radio on while your out (even for a short time).
- Prolonged absences:
  - Be sure to tell your neighbors when you leave for extended periods of time so that they can be especially vigilant of any suspicious activity.
  - Stop your newspapers and mail while you're gone. The postal service will hold your mail while you're gone or have one of your neighbors collect it until you return.
  - Ask a neighbor or friend to take out/bring in your trash cans on pick up days.
  - Schedule a vacation house check with the WC Volunteer Police Services Unit. This is a free service offered to residents of Walnut Creek. To schedule a house check, call 925-256-3525, or schedule it online at http://www.walnut-creek.org/citygov/depts/police/vacation\_house\_checks.asp
- Protect your house by using good lighting and locking doors, gates, windows and garages.
- Don't hide a key outside. Criminals know all the hiding places.
- Consider getting a dog. Even a small dog can be a deterrent to a burglar.

Finally, consider setting up a neighborhood watch with your neighbors. If you see any suspected criminal activity, you can contact the Walnut Creek Police Department at 925-935-6400 or 911 in an emergency.

Boogie, Blues and Jazz Concert

The Second Friday Concert Series at Walnut Avenue United Methodist Church continues to be a great success. On January 8th, the local bluegrass group OMGG performed to a standing room only crowd.

February 12th, the concert series features Sam Rudin on piano. As described by a concert flyer from Anna's Jazz Island in Berkeley: "Sam plays with the rhythmic intensity of an entire band, romping through the whole range of 20th century American music. He can evoke the spirit of Fats Waller, Oscar Peterson, Mose Alison and Jerry Lee Lewis, sometimes all at the same time."

Lee Hildebrand of East Bay Express describes Sam as "A master of musical Americana...his scope is near limitless... enormous talent."

We are very lucky to have Sam Rudin at our 2nd Friday Concert Series here in Walnut Creek. Don't miss the opportunity to hear this musical genius!

PARENT PATROL UPDATE

Thanks to all the parents who have committed their time to lunch supervision. Parent presence in the quad is a necessary asset for both the VP and campus supervisors and makes a difference in student lunch time safety. To maintain this safety, we could use more parents for the sub list in case a scheduled parent has a conflict arise or their child is sick. If you have the flexibility to be an on call sub, contact Anne O'Donoghue at adonoghue@astound.net or Faye Mettler gmettler@astound.net and we will add your name to the contact list.

BBA camps are a great opportunity for boys and girls in grades 1 - 9 to learn to play better baseball and softball from their future high school coaches.

Players will have fun playing with their peers, develop the skills needed for success, and become more prepared for their upcoming leagues, games, and tournaments. The camps are designed to be fun, competitive, and focused on fundamentals like pitching, catching, fielding, throwing, hitting, and base running.

The camps are open to players of all skill levels and the high instructor-to-player ratio guarantees that every player - whether a beginner or future All-Star - will receive the attention they require. Players will be grouped by age, size, and ability to assure maximum competition, development, and enjoyment.
