The Woodlands' 4th of July Parade and Celebration

by Erik Ehlers

The Woodlands 4th of July celebration was an explosion of red, white and blue hued fun for young and old alike. Highlights from the annual parade through the neighborhood included a salute to the Warriors dubbed the "Woodlands Warriors" and a troupe of Valle Verde Vikings waving to onlookers, with classic cars kicking-off the parade. Of course, it wouldn't be a Woodlands parade without a gaggle of children on bikes, the youngest of whom could be seen in the latter stages of the route walking hand in hand or in the arms of their parents, with two wheelers slung over their elders' shoulders.

The heat was not in full summer force, fortunately, but it was warm enough that a dip in the Cabana Club pools offered a refreshing respite from the day. Crowds enjoyed sack races, boat races and water balloon tosses while munching on hamburgers and hot dogs slathered in the finest condiments. If there was a belly flop contest, this writer missed it, but perhaps a new tradition will be born for future anniversaries of liberty's anniversary. By mid-afternoon there was another parade, this time led by parents whose tired offspring were being taken home for naps, though the smart money would be bet on many parents also enjoying a snooze filled siesta.

The festivities offered another example of the Woodlands' unique neighborhood character. Every yard in the subdivision was festooned with a small flag, courtesy of leading local realtor Marc Graves. The Woodlands' patriotic wingding is unique, drawing visitors from miles around to enjoy the uncommon spectacle of a tiny neighborhoods' collective wonderful self-delusion that of course there's a giant hullabaloo to celebrate the nation's birth, and it is of course quite necessary to our collective sense of happiness and well-being.

Now we can all plan for next year's floats and consider the strange concept that a country's birthday, much like our own, can disappointingly fall on a Tuesday. Perhaps the upside is that many will enjoy a four or five day weekend.

Thanks to Adrienne Robillard

By the Woodlands Association Board

On July 2 the Woodlands Association board met to discuss a range of issues of interest to our neighborhood. It was a pretty typical meeting, except for one thing: it marked the last meeting as President for Adrienne Robillard, whose term ends at the end of the July. After over 5 years serving in a variety of roles, Adrienne is moving on to lead a range of community activities, including Co-chair of the Fall Carnival at Valle Verde and as manager for Cherise Khaund's MDUSD school board campaign.

During her time on the Board Adrienne has been an active and tireless supporter of our community. If you've read the newsletter in the past five years, it was edited, proofed and, in many cases written by Adrienne. Adrienne joined the board in 2011 as the Newsletter Coordinator, before becoming Vice President in 2012. When the incumbent President moved out of Walnut Creek and stepped down in 2013, Adrienne stepped in took on that job which she has held ever since.

In addition to the newsletter, Adrienne has lead numerous neighborhood improvement initiatives, including the improvements to Valle Verde Park in 2014, with enhanced landscaping and a barbecue grill. Adrienne is always on point to make sure our neighborhood has a local project as part of Walnut Creek's community service day, and is a major supporter of Valle Verde Elementary school, volunteering there as well.

The Woodlands Association Board would like to extend our great appreciation for Adrienne's hard work and leadership, and wish her the best of luck in the future.

Northgate Neighbor Running for MDUSD School Board

A Mt. Diablo School District parent with a third and sixth grader, Cherise Khaund is launching her campaign to run for MDUSD School Board. With a focus on providing educational opportunities for all students across our diverse district, Khaund brings 20 years of education advocacy to the race, including 8 years with Buena Vista Auxiliary of Assistance League of Diablo Valley (BVA). She held many roles at BVA, including Director, helping thousands of struggling elementary school students learn to read in 10 schools across our district. This spring she was instrumental in coordinating Safe Routes to Schools for Valle Verde Elementary, Walnut Acres Elementary and Foothill Middle Schools. She is a parent classroom volunteer, Science Fair coordinator and Girl Scout Leader.

Khaund brings enthusiasm and a strong vision of proactive communication, increased fiscal transparency, and championing innovation to the table. Her top priorities in running for MDUSD School Board are to:

1. Inform and engage teachers, principals and communities before decisions are made affecting them.
2. Make district spending clear and understandable to the public and ensure every dollar is strategically spent to reach our collective goals.
3. Scale innovations that promote 21st century skills, including collaboration, critical thinking, and cultural understanding, so all students gain tools to be effective global citizens.

8/15: Drive-Through Registration

On Monday, August 15th, ALL families may pick up a registration packet. Simply drive through the bus circle anytime between 7-10am or 5:30-6:30pm (you don't even have to get out of your car). In your packet, you will find an emergency card for each of your children and some very important school and PTA information, including a "save the date" magnet with key dates, phone numbers and addresses. Please review the emergency contact card carefully to make sure the information is correct. Make corrections in red and sign the back of the sheet.

Grilled Corn Salad with Green Beans, Tomatoes & Hazelnuts

By Colleen O'Donnell

This salad should be the spokesperson for late summer- fresh corn, green beans and ripe tomatoes marry together with a light dressing. Great with grilled meats and other dishes- this is sure to become a favorite. I love grilled corn and green beans (use a mesh basket when grilling the beans)—and you don't have to turn on the stove- but if you prefer to steam that works perfectly as well. A little goat cheese or feta would be a great addition!

Salad

1/2 cup hazelnuts, toasted & chopped
4 ears of corn, shucked
1 pound green beans, trimmed
1 pound cherry or other small tomatoes, halved
3 scallions, thinly sliced
1/4 cup basil, thinly sliced

Dressing

1/4 cup Extra Virgin Olive Oil
2 1/2-3 tablespoons white wine or champagne vinegar
Salt and freshly ground pepper

1. Preheat the oven to 350°. Place hazelnuts on baking sheet and roast for about 8-10 minutes until fragrant and golden brown. While still warm but ok to handle—place in kitchen towel and rub together to remove most of the skin (a little remaining is fine)
2. If grilling corn & green beans- prepare grill to medium heat. Brush corn with extra virgin olive oil and sprinkle with salt. Toss trimmed green beans in a large bowl- drizzle with extra virgin olive oil and salt and toss to combine. Grill corn for about 10 minutes, turning them every few minutes until there are some browned areas. The beans will take about 5-8 minutes in the mesh basket—toss once or twice until tender and charred in some places.

If steaming the corn & beans- bring a large pot of water to a boil. Add the ears of corn, turn down heat to medium high and cook until tender, about 3-4 minutes. Remove corn from water. Add green beans to the pot and cook until just tender—about 3 minutes—rinse under cold water to stop the cooking.

3. For both methods- When cool enough to handle, hold the cob perpendicular to your work surface and cut kernels from the corn cob with a very sharp knife (you can do this in a large bowl to catch the kernels. Cut the beans into 1-inch lengths.

4. In a large bowl, whisk the olive oil with the vinegar and season with salt and pepper. Add the tomatoes, scallions, corn, beans and basil, toss to combine. Sprinkle with the hazelnuts and enjoy!

Do you have an over-abundance from your fruit trees? Jams, pies, etc.! Let me know and we can create something and share it in the newsletter! Questions or comments? cookinginthewoodlands@gmail.com

RE|SOURCE

Your Real Estate Source for the Woodlands Neighborhood

10 Reasons You Need a

REAL ESTATE PRO TO SELL YOUR HOME

If you're thinking about selling your home, don't do it alone. Although some sellers may initially try to sell their home themselves, they soon realize they need an experienced professional on their side to help them through the process.

1. UNDERSTAND THE LOCAL MARKET

The internet gives you access to more information now than ever before. An experienced real estate professional, like me, is able to help you understand this information in the context of the local market and interpret what it means to your home sale.

2. PRICE YOUR HOME COMPETITIVELY

When you list your home, you want it to sell quickly and for top dollar. Having professional assistance will help you do both, especially in competitive markets.

3. OPTIMIZE ONLINE MARKETING STRATEGIES

Buyers are savvier than ever. To find the right buyer, we have to go where they are. We'll do more than put a sign in your yard to attract buyers; we'll utilize the latest online marketing tools to show your home at its best and entice buyers to learn more.

4. TARGET THE RIGHT BUYERS

A marketing strategy means nothing if you're not targeting the right buyers. The first few weeks a house is on the market are vital. The longer a home remains on the market, the more likely a seller will have to reduce their listing price and/or offer incentives, such as a home warranty policy or assistance with closing costs, to attract buyers.* A real estate pro has the experience and connections to find the right buyers for your home.

5. GET MORE MONEY FOR YOUR HOME

All sellers want their homes purchased at the listed price, if not more. Studies show that enlisting the aid of an agent to sell your home will net you more money than trying to sell it yourself. According to the National Association of REALTORS® 2015 Profile of Home Buyers and Sellers, the average for sale by owner (FSBO) sold for $210,000 compared to an agent-assisted home sale, which sold for $249,000.

6. NEGOTIATE IN YOUR BEST INTEREST

Buyers are looking for a deal on a home, and they'll hire an experienced agent to negotiate the sale for them. Having a real estate pro on your side will even the playing field and help you negotiate the terms of the sale with your best interest in mind.

7. SPOT POTENTIAL CHALLENGES

Every real estate transaction is different. While we hope the transaction goes smoothly, setbacks and other hiccups often occur, and at the most inconvenient time. Sellers who have listed their homes themselves may not have the experience and know-how to deal with these issues as they arise; however, a real estate pro can tap into their experiences to handle potential problems, such as issues with a home inspection or problems with a title, and mitigate their impact.

8. OFFER TIPS TO IMPROVE YOUR HOME'S VALUE AND MAKE IT MORE ATTRACTIVE TO BUYERS

Sellers typically update their homes before they list. While some simply paint each room a neutral color and do a thorough cleaning, others may do a kitchen or bathroom remodel to boost their home's value and/or help it sell faster in a competitive market. What should you do to boost your home's value and give it the competitive edge in our market? Ask me!

9. TAP INTO A NETWORK OF AGENTS

I work alongside other local real estate professionals, and have a database of thousands who may have clients looking for a home just like yours. Marketing your home to other agents is another way to help us find a qualified buyer.

*Source: NAR 2015 Profile of Home Buyers and Sellers

10. TAP INTO A RICH NETWORK OF SERVICE PROFESSIONALS

Real estate professionals work with a variety of service and trades-people, including contractors, landscapers, movers and more. There is an average of 26 services involved in a real estate transaction in the 30 days before and after it has closed; however, you may need to tap into these services long after the ink has dried. From a plumber to a gardener, a real estate pro can refer you to a reputable tradesperson in your local area.

If you've been thinking of selling your home, give me a call! We'll discuss your home's value, answer any questions you have and give you the scoop on our local market.
